

Cosmetic Solutions

Check out our range of specialities for the cosmetics industry.

Trends, trends and more trends. If there is one thing that defines the cosmetics industry, it is that it is evolving at a dizzying speed. To meet current consumer demands you have to reinvent yourself on a daily basis, and we know that when it comes to finding ingredients for a specific formulation, there are a lot of components to keep in mind: reliability of the source, product shelf life, product quality, regulatory issues, etc.

At Barcelona, we make your life easier. We feature a wide range of basic raw materials and solutions for colour cosmetics, skincare, hygiene products, hair care, etc. Additionally, we work with international partners that are continuously innovating and launching new products in line with current market trends. Therefore, we can advise you in your search for ingredients, or suggest alternatives to products you are currently using but need to replace to achieve your desired formulation.

We know our work directly impacts people's quality of life, which is why we work with you on a one to one basis, supplying you with the ingredients you need to ensure the successful development of your cosmetic products.

Wide range of ingredients

We work to develop our portfolio and offer you a wide range of ingredients and solutions, both for distribution and own brand.

We seek out new ingredients

We love challenges. Tell us which ingredient you are looking for or are interested in for your cosmetic formula, and we will look for it for you.

Proven quality

Quality ingredients make the difference in a cosmetic formula. We work to guarantee you the most demanding requirements.

We suggest alternatives

We listen to you to propose alternatives to ingredients you are using and need to replace until you get the cosmetic formula you want.
